

"Now that the Lord came up every year to Jerusalem at the Passover betokens his humility as a man, for it is man's duty to meet together to offer sacrifices to God, and conciliate Him with prayers. Accordingly the Lord, as man, did among men what God, by angels, commended man to do. Hence it is said, According to the custom of the feast day. Let us follow the journey of His mortal life if we delight to behold the glory of his divine nature."
